Re: CERCLIS No. TXD980152475; Goodson & Son Trucking, 17255 Market Street, Channelview, TX

Dear Ms. Chambers:

We represent the owners of the property located at 17300 Market Street, Channelview, Texas. We recently learned that the EPA's CERCLIS database mistakenly lists Goodson & Son Trucking, CERCLIS No. TXD980152475, at 17300 Market Street, Channelview, Texas.

Goodson & Son Trucking was located across the street from 17300 Market Street and its correct address was 17255 Market Street. From our review of the EPA's CERCLIS file, we believe the database error is attributable to the site inspectors stating that the Goodson & Son Trucking facility was located in the 17300 Block of Market Street. See Potential Hazardous waste Site Inspection Report (November 10, 1987); FIT Task Request (September 23, 1988); Sampling Inspection Report prepared by ICF Technology Incorporated (February 28, 1989). When the information was entered into the database we believe the word Block was inadvertently left off.

The EPA's CERCLIS file materials consistently refer to the site as bounded by Magnolia on the west, Market on the south, and IH-10 to the north (Attached is a Site Sketch prepared by ICF Technology Incorporated from the EPA's CERCLIS file). The odd numbered street addresses, such as 17255 Market Street, have Market Street as a south boundary. In contrast, the even numbered street addresses, including 17300 Market Street, are located across the street; Market Street is the north boundary. On this map, our client's property, 17300 Market Street, is located next to Texas Gulf Asphalt (on the left hand side).

Also included is an affidavit from the owner of Goodson & Son Trucking, Kyle Goodson, which acknowledges that his business was never located at 17300 Market Street, and was, in fact, located at 17255 Market Street, Channelview, Texas.

Please let me know if I can provide you with more information or if you have any questions. Naturally, we would like this error in the database corrected as soon as possible.

Very truly yours
